"Language is the road map of a culture. It tells you where its people come from and where they are going - it's the words of R. La Moine Brown. I'm absolutely agree with words of this person. The main function of language it's the way to talk and describe your minds.

We talk every day and it's the reason why language is one of the most important things in our life.

There are a lot of different nations in our world, and every nation has its own traditions and culture. What's about language ^{was} ^{being} ^{developed} for many years, moreover, it was changing with time: new words was added,

Some of words doesn't used ⁱⁿ nowadays, there are a lot of different ^{rules} ^{have} ^{appeared} in our language - all of these depended from

events of past

To improve my words I'd like to give some examples. We can notice that there are a lot of unknown words and constructions in books and films, which created more than fifty years ago. It improves that language always changes with time.

In conclusion I'd like to say that it's really important to learn your native language to show ~~to the~~ people of another nationalities how rich the culture of your nation. It also will help you to Show your's best sides
